Places for a fine romance

A honeymoon is possibly the most important holiday you will ever plan. Mercedes Maguire looks at the top 10 honeymoon packages available

HUNDREDS of years ago, a honeymoon was traditionally taken as a trip to visit family members who had not been able to attend the wedding. These days it's more of an excuse to get away and relax following the stress of planning the big day.

Australian couples will spend about two weeks on a honeymoon and fork out about $7000 on the post-wedding trip.

Kim Skilton, marketing director of My Holiday Centre, says relaxation and an all-inclusive package with luxury inclusions are top of a bride and groom's must-haves for the perfect honeymoon. Her company specialises in packages to places considered typical honeymoon destinations such as Fiji, Bali, Hawaii, Thailand, Malaysia, Queensland and LA.

"Newlyweds want to have a holiday to remember and are willing to pay a little more for the privilege, so they'll go for things such as a better room type, extra privacy and special touches like champagne on arrival, spa treatments and a late checkout," she says.

"But relaxation is probably top of their list. Most couples are often after a great location where they can just 'fly 'n' flop for a week or two." She says with most couples paying for their own wedding these days and already having set up a home together, wishing wells – where guests can contribute financially to their honeymoon – are popular.

My Holiday Centre offers a wishing well service, as do Flight Centre and several online companies such as travelregistry.com.au and ourwishingwell.com.au
