► SRI PANWA PHUKET

This is pure indulgence. So many properties these days go for the private pool thing, but the Sri Panwa has taken it to another level – a 48 square meter infinity pool that wraps around the property's magnificent villas, meaning you can dive straight in from your bedroom, with panoramic views of the Andaman sea. And the spa, almost like the opulent lair of a James Bond bad-guy, is not to be missed.

► SURIN PHUKET

Overlooking a stretch of beautiful white sand beach in Phuket, is this reimagined property, formerly of Chedi fame. It carries on the reputation of being one of the best hotels on the island, providing a perfect blend of elegant simplicity, seclusion and sophistication. Its thatched cottages are nestled into a hillside forest of coconut palms, an idyllic vacation setting that you won't ever stop talking about.

► SARAJIN KHAO LAK

Khao Lak is a beautiful, less trodden part of Phang Nga, not far from Phuket. The Sarajin is set on a private beach, inherently romantic and free from young families. If you want to escape your privates, minimalist and contemporary digs then we'd suggest heading to the truly divine infinity pool. You'll also be able to head out with the hotel's fisherman, to catch and cook your own dinner, if you're that way inclined.
